

Revitalizing Your Spaces and Your People

Through Workplace Transformation

A New Worklife Dynamic

Every industry has experienced accelerated change and as millions of employees began working outside of their traditional workspaces, the lines between homelife and work have blurred. In October 2020, 54% of US employees said they had worked from home in the last 7 months due to the global pandemic, and 42% would like the option to continue working remotely 4 or 5 days a week after the pandemic ends.

Leaders grappled with new challenges – seeking solutions that help their business grow in the current economic structure while also supporting employees in all the spaces they work. Organizations will prosper by creating physically and virtually connected experiences that enable people to thrive in a blended worklife dynamic.

Sodexo's mission is to improve people's lives—and we serve over 100 million people daily. # Changing Needs and Challenges in the New Worklife Dynamic Businesses worldwide are facing new challenges in the wake of the current social and economic environment. Your success in the new work world will depend on addressing these pressure points with thoughtful strategies and strategic partnerships.

- Revenue Restoration/Replacement & Brand Confidence

Re-establishing revenue sources impacted by the economic downturn and creating new income streams is essential to rebuilding stakeholder, consumer and employee confidence in your business.

35% of US consumers were optimistic or very optimistic about economic conditions after Covid-19, and just 10-15% in Italy, France, Spain and the UK (McKinsey).

- Health, Safety & Environmental Well-being

Your employees are undoubtedly concerned about their health and safety at work.

82%

expect their employers to keep them safe while at work with proper sanitation and safety measures (Harris).

The pandemic has also created a renewed focus on protecting the environment, as two-thirds of citizens worldwide agreed climate change is as serious a crisis as COVID-19 (Ipsos).

- Employee Productivity, Collaboration, Work from Home Virtualization & Support

With employees in various locations across the globe, connecting and supporting your workforce has never been more important.

The top drawback cited by employees working remotely was lack of social interaction with colleagues (Harris), so we must rise to the challenge of integrating virtual and physical workspaces to enable collaboration and productivity.

- Cost Reduction & Avoidance

Reducing costs and eliminating unnecessary costs is essential for businesses grappling with decreased revenues and economic recession. Optimizing costs allows your organization to remain agile while the economy and market demands continue to be unpredictable.

- Space Optimization & Consolidation

Your employees' physical workplace needs are changing, which means how to best use the space at your offices and work sites is also shifting.

76% of CEOs are reducing or considering reducing office space (Fortune). Therefore, strategies that reduce real estate or create adaptable, multi-use spaces can significantly decrease your operating costs.

- Talent Attraction, Retention, Employee Engagement & Culture

As your employees are adapting to blended work environments, they are expecting more flexibility and consumer-like benefits to support their new worklife. In order to attract and retain top talent, we are challenged to find ways to keep company culture strong and maintain a healthy level of employee engagement.

- Digital Transformation & Enablement

Whether working from home or at a remote location, your employees need reliable connections to the networks they use and to each other—which may mean restructuring or upgrading your technology stack.

In a recent Harvard Business Review Analytic Services survey, communications tools (74%), remote work tools (73%) and collaboration tools (67%) were the top-cited technologies considered “very important” for getting work done efficiently.

- Flexibility: Agility to Manage Change

The pandemic has been a true test of adaptability, demonstrating the advantages of having agility in your business models.

Vital Spaces

Businesses and the People that Power their Success.

Vital Spaces Case Studies: Services In Action

People-Centered Approach

Well-being

When Good Eating Company (GEC), part of the Sodexo family of brands, took over catering and hospitality for one client, the company's focus on driving improved health and nutrition was central to the brief. GEC's focus on preparing fresh, seasonal food and the strength of its nutritional expertise, led by company nutritionist Rose Constantine Smith, were important factors in deciding on a new employee dining partner.

GEC does this by promoting foods that are lower in salt, sugar and fat while keeping a strong focus on variety, sustainability and foods that promote well-being.

This holistic approach to nutrition and healthy eating includes running ongoing themed campaigns promoting elements of nutrition. For example, a campaign called 'Ditch the Detox' promoted fiber, brain food and eating more sustainably. These campaigns have included pop-up counters, talks and workshops.

In a recent employee survey for that client, 80% of people said they used the healthy food counter and 90% said it had improved their health.

Well-being Solution Leads to Improved Health for Employees

Through a partnership with Limeade, Sodexo tracked the impact of a well-being solution for a client and its employees over 3 years. The program had high engagement and led to significant health improvements for employees.

94%
of the eligible population registered for the program

89% participated in well-being activities

94% of our client's employees were active monthly users

Improved Health Outcomes

For those at high risk for nutrition

11%
increase in nutrition scores

For those at high risk for heart health

9.2%
increase for heart
health scores

For those at high risk for blood sugar

30.55%
increase for healthy
blood sugar scores

In addition to better health outcomes for these at-risk populations, the Limeade, Sodexo and client partnership has led to a culture of making health a top priority for all.

360° Optimal Experiences

Food On-Site

modern recipe

To meet the changing attitudes of food at work, Sodexo provides a contemporary, all-day offering that transforms under-utilized canteens into vibrant assets that encourage well-being, loyalty and safe collaboration.

The service, called Modern Recipe, is customized for each client's needs, supporting a vision of the modern workplace dining experience that helps clients improve productivity across the board. It is enhancing customer perceptions, inspiring changes in customer behavior, and will continue to evolve and adapt.

For one client, implementation of the Modern Recipe service delivered:

An increase in spend per head by Average daily sales increased by

Site-wide sales increased by

Another client saw dining rates increase by 45% since Modern Recipe was introduced, and dining revenue is up by 60% as a result.

Comfort in Times of Uncertainty

Our experts at Sodexo quickly mobilized as COVID-19 began to affect the U.S., setting up a Regional Response Team that met daily to discuss the needs of Health, Safety & Environment, Supply, HR, and Communication divisions.

We worked 24/7 to support our employees and provide business continuity for clients, including setting up a 1-800 line for COVID-19 support, establishing a centralized PPE warehouse, and leveraging technology for consistent communication, ordering, tracking and business operations.

Our food and beverage professionals transformed retail spaces into small convenience stores to give client employees access to groceries and take-home meals and changed hundreds of on-site dining programs into meal delivery or drive-through meal pick-up offerings.

Expertly Created Workspaces

Integrated Facilities Management

When Sodexo took over the integrated facilities management contract for a major tech corporation, it required transitioning over 650 employees and taking over delivery services in 68 buildings across 18 countries.

As a part of the contract, Sodexo picked up delivery to three locations in Ireland with a goal of improving the employee and customer experience while realizing cost savings.

Across the project, the client was focused on setting up joint ways of working, setting a new safety focus and creating a more customer-service focused approach.

650
employees

68
buildings

18
countries

Some Examples of Services Sodexo Implemented to Tackle Those Challenges Include:

Visitor Experience: New visitor/group/event badges have reduced plastic pockets, resulting in a 50% reduction of non-biodegradable plastic waste and financial saving of $10.4K.

Sustainability: Sodexo has introduced water saving nozzles called "Water Blades."

Health and Safety: Sodexo fully integrated with the client's Health & Safety function, helping to identify any gaps in fire wardens on-site by creating "heat maps" of where they are located in the building. The same process was completed for first-aid personnel on-site and quarterly training sessions for both fire wardens and first-aid personnel have been established.

Water Blades have led to a 28% reduction in water consumption

Sodexo's efforts delivered savings of 1.59% against the annual budget.

Sodexo worked with a pharmaceutical client on a major project to replace all plantroom lighting. The objectives were to:

- Reduce maintenance
- Improve safety
- Reduce energy consumption

The project team removed and replaced all existing inefficient fluorescent luminaries with modern efficient LED fittings, including programmable intelligent controls.

Project cost:

$63,600K

Annual energy savings:

$291,466

4.5x
cost savings

Reducing Food Waste & Saving Money With WasteWatch, Powered By Leanpath

Cox Central Park Café serves up to 4,000 people daily for breakfast and lunch and has approximately 50 employees.

Using data to set targeted goals

Executive Chef Kathryn Caines saw that fish and vegetables were the top wasted foods. She knew they were relevant to the target goals since the Café offers a lot of product in those categories. With these insights in mind, she locked in initial reduction goals using the Leanpath Online Goals Module.

- Reduced food loss and waste from April 2018-March 2019. Food loss by weight was reduced by 40% from the baseline, a nearly $50,000 value.

“ I knew we had a good amount of stuff we were giving away and throwing out. To see the numbers and the weight and cost, it really opens up your eyes... I always think it’s important to track waste and see where your money is going. ”

Creating a menu to align with a mission to protect our planet

National Geographic Society is a 130-year-old institution promoting exploration to understand our planet and generate solutions for a more sustainable future. Sodexo was asked to create plant-based choices for National Geographic's café.

Our chefs embraced the challenge and crafted an all-plant offering that still met Sodexo's standards for taste, appeal and quality. Our team combined creativity, research, techniques from vegan cooking events, and marketing savvy to encourage vegans and meat-eaters alike to try new things.

Results:

- Overall sales at the café increased. Specifically, lunch sales grew 6.8% over the previous year, thanks in large part to the vegan menu.
- 44.5% of employees said they were likely to purchase vegetarian items in the café

“ Sodexo's plant-based menu has changed my life. I tried to 'go veggie' before, but always struggled because good-tasting options weren't readily available. Sodexo has made it so easy for me to have the healthy lifestyle I want. ”

CLAIRE CHO

Assistant to the President and Chief Operating Officer at National Geographic Society

“ The pandemic crisis has further revealed the fragility of our planet and the need for economic models built on sustainable consumption patterns and solutions that preserve natural resources. These priorities are part of Sodexo's pragmatic approach to work with our clients, suppliers and employees to rebuild confidence and seize the window of opportunity to make the recovery a turning point when it comes to sustainability. ”

MARIA OUTTERS

Senior Vice President of Corporate Responsibility at Sodexo
